

NATIONAL VETERANS
MEMORIAL AND MUSEUM

In 1782, Deborah Sampson joined the Continental Army's Fourth Massachusetts Regiment disguised as a man named Robert Shurtleff. After 17 months, her secret was discovered and she was honorably discharged from service.

Image Courtesy of the Library of Congress