

NATIONAL VETERANS MEMORIAL AND MUSEUM

Service banners like this hung in the windows of military families during World War II. A blue star represents a family member currently in service, and a gold star represents a family member who was killed in action.

Courtesy of The National WWII Museum